DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 44-55 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. In claim 44, the specific structure of the electrostatic protection elements is not clearly defined. Certainly in the semiconductor art ESD devices may be comprised of vastly different structures. To the extent that the instant invention relies on a specific structure for the recited electrostatic protection elements, this particular structure must be clearly recited in order to clearly identify where the invention actually lies.

It is also noted that claims 45-55 are dependent, directly or indirectly, on cancelled claim 1.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 44-55 are further rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Chittipeddi in view of applicants' admitted prior art shown in FIG. 14, for the reasons given in the previous action, hereby incorporated by reference. Applicants' argument that only one specific type of electrostatic protection element will meet the claim 44 recitation, is not persuasive. While applicants may have a preferred electrostatic protection element structure, nothing in the claim 44 description excludes the use of any other known prior art ESD structure, as well.

To the extent that applicants wish to exclude other prior art structures, and limit the claim to a particular structure, such structure must be specifically described and claimed.
